COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 26.

THE main feature to-day in commercial circles has necessarily been the result of the new loan allotted in Calcutta yesterday. The official return does not yet appear to have been made public, but from all we can learn, the summary of our own correspondent published in our telegraphic column this morning appears to be, as nearly as possible, correct. The result comes very close on what the general Bombay idea seemed to be in anticipation, so long as London buyers did not intervene, and to all appearance this seems to have been the case. Some portion may have been tendered for on home account, and doubtless was; but it is very evident that nothing in the shape of a syndicate had been at work, or we should have seen much higher figures. With Rs. 104¾ getting 53 per cent., it is manifest that some very high rates must have been paid; in fact, to produce an average of Rs. 105 3-16 it could not be otherwise; and purchasers are said to have been found at Rs. 106 for fair amounts. Such a level was necessarily the outcome only of the previous speculation here, and from all we can gather, the Bombay banks have succeeded in getting in at comparatively moderate figures. However that may be, the effect of the announcement on Paper here to-day has been decidedly depressing. To begin with Rs. 105½ was named without bringing out buyers, and some little business was done at Rs. 105⅜; but it was evident throughout that the whole tendency of the market was to sell, and at the close the quotation was Rs. 105¼ and for Fours-and-a-half Rs. 113. No great amount of business has been done, and the position is so unsettled that it is difficult to form a decided opinion regarding the future. In Calcutta quotations are said to be quite ¼ per cent. over us, and it is not at all unlikely that we may derive strength from that quarter, where, speculation not having been so rife, values have never advanced so high as here, and consequently are not likely to fall to the same extent. One weak feature consists in the fact that a number of small buyers obtained allotments which are now on the market for sale; but this, after all can be only a very temporary influence, and if Paper a few days ago was worth Rs. 105⅜ to Rs. 106 for 4 per cent., there is nothing now to make it worth less, the loan having presumably been taken into account and discounted. The question is, however, whether the high rates paid a few days ago ever were warranted, and on that point we think there is fair ground for question. Support was no doubt found to a large extent in the rates obtained in London, but the telegrams received this morning are not quite so promising. Consols have receded ⅛ at 100⅞, French Rentes ⅜ at 119½, and Enfaced Rupee Paper ⅛ in Fours at 86½ and ⅛ in Fours-and-a-half at 92⅝. If this movement may be taken as any indication of approaching dearer money at home—and a rise in rates of discount is by no means unlikely—Paper here has no great life before it; but if on the other hand the decline proves to be only a temporary re-action from the previous unduly high level, we may see a continuance of comparatively high rates for Government Securities for some time to come. A further rise as a permanency, however, must be taken as against the odds, as irrespective of the low rate of interest which the investment now yields, it seems by no means improbable that money here will be dearer before it is cheaper.

The General Produce markets at home yesterday were without change.

Piece-goods in Manchester kept firm, and Cotton in Liverpool yesterday also closed firm, the day's sales being estimated at 10,000 bales. Spot prices show no movement of any kind, but in American deliveries the previous day's decline of 3-32d. appears to have been recovered. From New York ready Mid Upland, still come unaltered at 11 11-16 cents, October shipment at 10·62 cents per lb. The receipts at the U.S. ports to date give the following comparisons:—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Saturday's Receipts.....	3,000	2,600	300
Two days' do.	3,000	2,400	900
Three days' do.	6,000	5,000	800
Total since 1st Sept.....	5,683,000	4,803,000	4,126,000

EXCHANGE.—Owing to the belief that no important proportion of the new loan has been taken up on London account, our market opened weak with a decline of 1-32d., and during the day a further fall of 1-16d. has been established. Both ready and forward, the banks are most unwilling sellers, and naturally enough, as a considerable portion of the late improvement was due to the idea that the loan would lead to an increased demand remittance to this side. At the same time we are now at a level which does not admit of much of a fall, and should the present decline go on for any length of time it can only mean all the sharper after recovery.

Closing quotations are:—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7d.	per rupee.
Do. telegraphic	1s. 7 9-16 to 19-32d.	"
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 7 23-32d.	"
Credits, 3 " " ..	1s. 7 27-32 to 1d.	"
Documents, 3 " " ..	1s. 7¾d.	"
Francs, 3 " " ..	2·09¾	"

On Calcutta there is no change.

SHARES are still firm. In Banks there is no change, Press Companies are practically unaltered. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares in some cases are a shade weaker.

COTTON to-day has nominally been steady owing to the tenor of advices from home, but we have not heard of any business having been done for export and values are nominally unchanged.

SEEDS and WHEAT show no quotable movements.

FREIGHTS are steady but without alteration as regards rates. There is some demand for steamers for September loading forwards, but not at rates likely to result in anything.

PIECE-GOODS are steady at previous prices both on the spot and to arrive. Nominally the market has been closed, but it has made little difference in the extent of business doing.

COALS continue dull on the spot but firm, with no sellers for distant delivery.

At the meeting of the Town Council held yesterday the question of covering in the Malabar Hill reservoir was further considered. After a somewhat lengthy discussion it was resolved, on the motion of Rao Saheb V. N. Mandlik, that the Corporation be recommended to sanction a sum not exceeding Rs. 3,97,360 for constructing a masonry roof and filter beds over the whole of the reservoir.

On the 24th August next a splendid property is to be offered for sale by auction in Bombay under an order of the High Court—namely, the property known as the Ashburner estate, and comprising a number of houses, and grounds attached, in one of the best quarters of Bombay, Cumballa Hill. Amongst the lots—five in number—are the bungalows at present occupied by the Hon. Mr. Justice Melvill and the Hon. Mr. Marriott, and the bungalow lately occupied by Mr. Wordsworth.

The sentence on the widow Vijia Laxmi of Surat, a vernacular journal states, has been finally reduced to a term of imprisonment for five years.

Mr. C. L. Tupper, Under-Secretary to the Government of India, in the Revenue Department, has been given an honorarium of Rs. 1,000 for his work on Punjab Customary Law.

The whole of the property looted by Shinwaris from the Kaka Khel travellers at Paindeh Khak, in the early part of the current month, has been recovered.

The raiders in the recent attack on a picquet near Peshawar carried off four carbines from the 19th Bengal Lancers post. Only one sowar was killed outright, but another has since died of his wounds. It is believed the attack was made by the Malik Din Khel, a section of the Afridis, in revenge for the loss the Bassi Khel, their near friends, sustained when they attacked a convoy on the Kohat road, near Matunni, last year. The leader is said to have been a well-known desperado, who has been cast out even of his own tribe.

Major J. F. Bruce, 6th Punjab Infantry, is appointed to officiate as wing commander of the 4th Punjab Infantry, as a temporary measure, vice Major A. Macrae Bruce, going on leave.

Reports received from Muscat give some details of the recent disturbances in Oman. In June last a conflict took place between the Beni Omar and the El Howasineh, at a place named El-islah in the Batinah. An attack had been made by the Ibriyeen of El-awabi on the Beni Ghafir tribe at Amk.

The latest North-West Provinces weather and crop report states :— Partial showers, more or less heavy, have fallen in all districts, but more rain is now everywhere needed. The young crops are generally healthy. Prices are rising slightly in Gorakhpur, Rae Bareli, and Saharanpur ; elsewhere stationary. General health good.

It is unlikely, the Pioneer hears, that the 92nd Highlanders will leave South Africa for several months. Our contemporary describes this as another case of working the willing horse to death.

We are informed through the Press Commissioner's Office that in order to prevent the recurrence of frauds of the kind lately perpetrated in the Lahore Treasury, and with a view to secure greater protection to buildings in which treasure is stored, the attention of all Local Governments and Administrations has been invited to the general rules of the Public Works Code regarding the inspection of public buildings by Public Works officers, and it has been pointed out to them that the inspection of treasuries should form an important part of the duties of Superintending and Executive Engineers. In all cases in which it is considered that treasuries are not safe as regards the buildings or the manner in which treasure is stored, the Public Works officers should report the facts to the Local Governments and Administrations concerned.

On the situation in Southern Afghanistan the Pioneer remarks :—"The rival armies of Ayoub Khan and Abdul Rahman are getting very close now. They are not much more than twenty miles apart, and we shall probably know the result in a few days The Amir ought to have about five regiments and twenty guns at Girishk ; and Ayoub's force from all accounts is about equal in numbers, but is weaker in guns, and a good deal stronger in cavalry. Even, therefore, if the tribes hold aloof, the combatants are very equally matched ; Ayoub's having the advantage in leaders, and the Amir's army being probably better supplied with ammunition, &c. The probability, however, is that the Alizais and Barakzais of Pusht-i-rud and Zamindawar will join Ayoub, and in that case we do not think there can be much doubt as to the result."

Among the many extravagances which mark so much that has been done by us in this country, the Lahore paper notices the building and maintaining of a number of useless chowkies. For instance, the Police, Road, Canal, and Railway (construction) officers have all their own sets of bungalows, each with its little establishment and consequent expenses, and frequently these little bungalows are within a mile or two of one another, while those of the various departmental officers we have named constantly traverse the country in parallel lines, but a small distance apart. A large amount of marching has to be done by officials in this country, and pleasant enough work it is in the cold weather but for its loneliness, and this could be got rid of and a considerable sum be saved to Government in addition (by the decrease of maintenance and establishment expenses) if the chowkies were situated so as to be available for any Government official whose work took him to that part of the district, instead of, as at present, there being different sets for the various departmental officers.

Merchants who arrived in Peshawur last month from Bokhara, after a journey of fifty days, state that, when they left, news had arrived there of the Russians having conquered the Turkoman Akhal country and of their intention to subdue Merv. No envoy of the Russian Government had been to Bokhara for eight months. There are three Russian merchants living at Bokhara, of whom one is called "The Kantoor" after his profession, which is that of Forwarding Agent. He sends news continually to his Government, forwarding all important messages to Katti Kurghan, where the Russians have a telegraph office. It was rumoured that the King of Bokhara had received a letter from the Russian Government some four or five months ago, proposing that the country adjoining the Oxus in the direction of Bokhara should be regarded as a Russian dependency, while the country towards Balkh might be left to the disposal of the British Government. Great displeasure had been caused to the inhabitants of Samarkand, because the Russians were meditating the destruction of a celebrated Saint's tomb near Arak, Samarkand, in spite of the entreaties of the people. Their first attempt to blow it up with gunpowder resulted merely in the partial failure of the attempt. The people were then allowed to remove the corpses to a place called Hazrat-i-Zuda, outside Samarkand, after which the Russians devoted the building that was left to jail purposes. Hakumat Khan, who, after the death of Yakub Bacha, sought to establish himself in Yarkund, but was obliged to flee to Khokand and take refuge with the Russian Governor, when the Chinese seized Yarkund, is now returning to Yarkund with the permission of the Governor of Khokand. The Yarkundis are reported to suffer a great deal of oppression at the hands of the Chinese. The roads from Tashkurghan to Samarkand and Katti Kurghan are now complete.

The reports brought by these merchants from Bokhara will, of course, remarks the Pioneer, be received with due caution. "They seem to have left Bokhara some time in April ; and they say that no envoy of the Russian Government had been to Bokhara for eight months. Yet it is known that, in November last, M. Ibrahimoff, who is described by the Turkestan Gazette as General Kauffman's diplomatic agent, accompanied by two Russian officers, left Tashkend for Bokhara on a mission to the Amir. Unless the merchants can give some information about this mission, their stories about the letter which the Russian Government sent to the Amir are not very trustworthy. It is not impossible, however, that Ibrahimoff was actually sent to propose a rectification of the Russian frontier, and that the scheme fell through, owing to the Czar's assassination and the serious illness of General von Kauffmann. The account of the destruction of a saint's tomb by the Russians may be trusted, as such an affair would cause no small commotion amongst the community ; though the Russians are known to show little respect for the holy places of Islam—a trait in their character which is known and talked of even in Afghanistan."

A circular is published with General Orders to the effect that, under instructions from the Horse Guards, non-commissioned officers and men of the British infantry regiments in India who are at present serving on short-service engagements (i. e., six years with the colours, and six years with the reserve) are invited to extend their period of Army service to complete "seven years with the colours, and five years with the reserve," or, if their period of Army service expires while they are serving abroad, to complete "eight years with the colours, and four years with the reserve." Separate rolls of the two classes of men will be drawn up, and a note will be made in the regimental monthly returns dated 1st August next of the numbers of men who elect to serve for the additional periods, and of those who prefer to remain on their present term of service. An entry of the fact will also be made in the records of service of each man who extends his service, together with the date of the authority.

At a general court-martial assembled at Ranikhet, on the 29th day of June, Private John Robert Parkinson, 30th Regiment, was arraigned on the following charges :—(1) With having, at Ranikhet, on the 6th June, struck in the stomach with his head Corporal Albert Hulley of the same regiment, thereby knocking him down, and when on the ground knelt upon him, at the same time using threatening language to him, in substance and to the effect following, that is to say, "I'll kill you, you swine," the said Corporal Albert Hulley being his superior officer, and being in the execution of his office. (2ndly) With having, at Ranikhet, on the 6th June, violently resisted the escort ordered to take him to the guard-room. The Court found the prisoner guilty of both the charges, and he was sentenced to be imprisoned with hard labour for six hundred and seventy-two days, and in consequence of his short service and bad character, the above imprisonment is not to be in the United Kingdom. The sentence has been confirmed by the Commander-in-Chief.

A whole boat-load of persons out for a picnic on July 4, at Warrensburg (Missouri), were poisoned with the acid contained in lemonade which they drank. Eight of them are dead, and one hundred others are in a critical condition. The vendor of the lemonade has been arrested.

Says the Pall Mall Gazette :—There is one point about the unfortunate Tunis business which affords an invaluable lesson for Englishmen. When the evacuation of Kandahar was under consideration there was nothing on which the opponents of the ministerial policy relied more confidently than the assertion that if we only planted our flag on Kandahar we might look with indifference upon the machinations of Russia at Merv. Exactly the same assurances were given to the French people when in a weak moment they sanctioned the invasion of Tunis. If we go to Tunis, said the Forward School with one accord, nothing that can be done in Tripoli can affect our security. We came out of Kandahar, but the French unfortunately went into Tunis, and we can now see by their experience how hollow was the assurance that the further you depart from the natural base of your operations the more indifferent you may be to the intrigues of an enemy in front. It is not two months since the treaty was extorted from the Bey, but already the République Française, with all the Parisian journals in its wake, is declaring that if all the sacrifices necessitated by the Tunis campaign are not to be thrown away, it is indispensable to take new measures of precaution. As it is with regard to Tripoli so it would have been in regard to Merv. Much as we sympathize with France in the troubles she has thus brought upon herself, we prefer to witness the results of the experiment in Algeria rather than in Afghanistan.

The Whitehall Review says an American gentleman lately arrived in London was greatly surprised to find that President Garfield's assassin was the man whom a few days before he had had the greatest difficulty in kicking out of his house. The assassin, Guiteau, was recently introduced to this gentleman's family, and asserted that he was on the eve of being appointed American Minister at Vienna. Guiteau proposed to one of the young ladies, and, upon receiving a refusal, and being requested not to "call again," behaved so outrageously that the police were called in. The gentleman who so fortunately escaped this undesirable connection with Guiteau communicated these particulars to the American Minister.

The Odessa correspondent of the Times reports that the present harvest prospects througout Southern Russia are so brilliant that if they should be realized, the farmers think they will be able to dispense with any harvest during the next four years. This unprecedented abundance will be due to the abnormal quantity of rain which fell during the last two months ; nor has it entirely ceased yet, so that in some places people begin to fear they may have too much of it. In the governments of Kharkoff and Kherson the corn beetle has appeared, and in such numbers in the former that the Imperial Government is said to intend lending 100,000 roubles to the Zemstvo, or Provincial Land Assembly, towards the cost of exterminating that insect.

The disturbances at Prague, remarks the Pall Mall Gazette, have assumed serious dimensions. The immediate cause of the popular outbreak appears to have been the recent election to the Prague Chamber of Commerce. Certain Czech agitators availed themselves of this occasion to redouble their abuse of the Germans, and the mob of Prague seems for once to have taken their words literally. The fact that the election has fallen out in favour of the Germans is not likely to allay these angry passions. On the other hand, there can be no question that the Government has acted with all promptitude in the matter. It had been suggested, without foundation as it now appears, that the Ministry of Count Taafe winked at the excesses of the Czechs in order to avoid offending their Czech supporters in the Reichsrath. But, whatever may be the political leanings of the Ministry, there can be no doubt that they are determined to enforce the law for the protection of every nationality among the Emperor's subjects. Any other course would be suicidal. To allow the Germans to suffer violence from the Czechs would mean civil war, the interference of Prince Bismarck, and the dismemberment of the empire.

"There is a great commotion," says a correspondent of a London paper, "in the world of the reporters at the House of Commons. The Times, it seems, has asked that in the distribution of additional accommodation the Times may be assigned a room in which its fifteen or sixteen reporters may write their reports free from the interruptions of the common writing rooms. These are now in a perpetual state of disturbance from the movements of so many reporters and messengers, and the practice of many reporters to sit together in groups, read their notes to each other, and discuss audibly the phraseology of reports which are supposed to be written independently. The request of the Times is being resisted by resolution, by memorial, by personal appeal to members. A comparison of the reports in last Saturday's newspapers vindicates the strength of the claim made by the Times. In Saturday's papers the lengths of the reports were—Daily News, 2½ cols. ; Telegraph, 3¼ ; Chronicle, 4½ ; Post, 6½ ; Standard, 6¾ ; Advertiser, 7 ; Times, 17."

Should the report that the Spanish Government is about to discontinue the tobacco monopoly in the Philipine Islands prove true, remarks the Pall Mall Gazette, one of the closest and most strictly enforced monopolies that ever existed will be put an end to. The production of the Manilla cheroot was fenced about with protective regulations even from before the moment that the tobacco seed was put into the ground almost until that at which it was placed between the lips of the smoker. Some land in the Island of Lucon being better suited to the cultivation of the plant than others, all owners and occupiers of property in certain districts had to see that a proportion of their land under cultivation—the amount being regulated by the Government—was devoted to growing tobacco. The kind of seed sown and the mode of rearing the plants were closely supervised by the authorities. The product of the harvest could be purchased only by the Government ; and no one else could manufacture it into cigars or cheroots. No unmanufactured tobacco could be sold even for exportation, unless it were to be carried beyond the Cape of Good Hope—a regulation made to prevent the starting of a rival manufacture at Macao or Hong Kong. The factories of Manilla and Cavite are immese establishments. Every visitor to the former city must have been struck by the crowds of "hands"—chiefly Tagal women and girls—which stream out of their gates at the close of the working hours. Their interest in the proposed change must be considerable.

"A LADY VISITOR'S" COMPLAINTS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—You will observe that we have elicited one great fact from X991 ; namely, that he is aware that "our unfortunates" hail from the Danubian Principalities, and moreover, of the "non-existence of a Consul for the States referred to." This makes my statements all the stronger ; for how comes it that "our unfortunates" are culled from these States ? There must be some reason for it, and this fact alone looks very suspicious, and shows the necessity for thorough inquiry being made. The "procureurs" or "traiteurs" know full well what they are about and how best to conduct their business. Does it not look suspicious that these women come out in batches ? Who receives them, and who pays their passages ? It is known, of course, that no written agreement can be made to allure them, so these men have to fall back on false promises and other subterfuges by way of bait. The immediate gain is to the men, for the "Marwari" is introduced, and the women have to pay the piper, inferno rotoso. What right has any body of men thus to tyrannise over and oppress any woman, though she be from the Danubian Principalities and has not the protection of a Consul ? From past experiences and the present tone of X991's letter, I fear we have little to expect in the way of help from our police. I still hold that there is every reason for the public to believe that there is a "systematic traffic." This might be almost proved from X991's own showing, namely, that they all come from the one district—Danubian Principalities. The public must also see that the police will not make much effort to make the discovery in a proper way.

X991 speaks of "cases being old ones. This is perhaps to be regretted, but it does not prove that no cases now exist. Owing to ill health the only two who dared to undertake such a work entirely were unable to continue their labours ; so upwards of a twelvemonth passed and very little could be done lately.

MR. COOPER ON UNGODLINESS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Is it not possible that the speaker quoted by the Edinburgh Daily Review is the Reverend J. Cooper of Nagpore. He is at present home on leave. As principal of the Nagpore Free Church Mission School, he may be said to have been engaged in evangelistic-scholastic operations, and the reference to Nagpore in his speech would seem to indicate that such is the case. This may perhaps satisfy the Reverend C. Cooper of Madras City ; but how about the people of Nagpur ? Ought they not at once to see to the state of their souls ? Can they enter into nothing denunciation continue to lead ungodly lives ? Mr. Cooper will probably soon again be amongst them ; let them reform, so that when he arrives he may find them all "all he could wish." For my own part I feel I am all right' as I am, quite satisfied that I am

A STREET CLOSED TO THE PUBLIC.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The Frere-road has now been joined to Lawrence de Lima-street. The sign-board has also been put up on a post, indicating that it is "Frere-road." The G. I. P. R. Company have had gates made where their rails cross the road ; and yet with all this the public are not allowed to drive on the road in their carriages. May I ask the Municipal authorities why the G. I. P. Railway have their gates always closed, and so prevent the public from using the road ? I think, sir, this is a great nuisance. We could travel by this short time ; Prince's Dock and instead of which we are obliged to take a circuitous route, down the Mazagon-road, over the Hancock Bridge, then round the corner to Sewree Hill-road, over another (Elphinstone) Bridge, and then along the Frere-road. A grievance of this nature should at once be put a stop to, considering that the public pay the Municipality the "wheel tax" in return for the privilege of driving their carriages on every public road.

Croft, author of "Handbook for the Nursery," writes : "I have tried Dr. de Jongh's Light-Brown Cod Liver Oil, and find that it contains all the properties which render the Oil so efficacious. Dr. de Jongh's Oil is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably." Sold only in capsuled Imperial Half-Pints, Pints, and Quarts by all Chemists, Druggists, and Storekeepers. A Young Lady Student at Goa.—Miss M. V. Miss Pereira is the first lady who has yet successfully competed for the Lyceum honours at Goa.

The Poona Police.—We are glad to know that our District Superintendent of Police, Mr. W. B. Prescott, has decided to work a thorough change amongst the police subordinates since the recent torture cases were brought to light. Mr. Prescott is now employing Parsees in the Police Department, as vacancies occur. One Parsee has already been appointed as a police peon.—Deccan Herald.

Gamblers.—Ahmed Aba and five others were yesterday charged, at the instance of Inspector Dillon, before Mr. C. P. Cooper, with being found gaming in a common gaming-house at old Nagpada with dice and money. They were all convicted. Two servants of complainant, named Rama Soma and Pandoo Arjoon, were arrested on suspicion, and enquiries are being made.

A New Order with regard to the House Tax at Poona.—We understand that Government have issued an order that all houses and huts which do not realize more than Rs. 25 per annum as rent should not be taxed. We are very pleased to learn this fact, which, we presume, is one of the results of the petition of the anti-tax agitators. As we said on a former occasion, we would not be surprised to hear next that the house tax has been reduced to 2 per cent., if not altogether done away with.—Deccan Herald.

SUITS FOR DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE.

H. A. KING VS. J. S. KING.

In this case the petitioner, who is the wife of the respondent, applied for a dissolution of marriage, on the ground of her husband's adultery, coupled with ill-treatment. Mr. Inverarity and Mr. Jardine, instructed by Messrs. Crawford and Boevey, appeared for the petitioner, and Mr. Russell, instructed by Mr. A. F. Turner, for the respondent.

Mr. Inverarity, in briefly stating the petitioner's case, said the marriage of the parties was celebrated at Dublin on the 5th of October, 1871. Shortly after their marriage they came out to India. The husband seemed on several occasions to like her, treated his wife with considerable violence and cruelty. He often struck her severely ; and the last time he used violence to her was in the month of April last, at Sawant Wadee. Here the petitioner discovered that her husband was guilty of adultery. When he was charged with the offence he struck his wife with great violence. Hereupon she left the house of her husband, came to Bombay, and filed her petition in court.

Witnesses were then called and examined.

Harriette Athesina King deposed.—I am the petitioner in this case. I married the respondent on the 5th October, 1871, in St. George's Church in Dublin. My husband was a Lieutenant in the —th Regiment at the time of my marriage. About five weeks after the marriage I came out to India with my husband. On our arrival my husband was posted at Dumdum, near Calcutta. When there my husband was very unkind to me, and used very bad language towards me, saying, "You be d——d," &c. He also used personal violence to me on several occasions. He struck me with his hand. Sometimes when he grew very violent I had to leave his room and sleep in another room. While at Dumdum I remember going to a public ball in Calcutta. About 12-30 he took a carriage and drove away, leaving me alone. It is about seven miles from the ball-room to our house in Dumdum. I had to explain my position to my dancing partner, who made arrangements about my returning home. I remonstrated with my husband next morning. At times he used to twist my wrist severely, which produced bruises. He was behaving in this way constantly, and I used to show the marks to him constantly. He said, when the bruises were shown to him, that my flesh must be very tender. At night, sometimes, I was frightened at his conduct. I wrote home to my parents informing them of the treatment. We left Dumdum in 1872, and went to Secunderabad with the regiment. On our way we stopped at the military rest-camp at Poona. On our arrival there I got very tired and thirsty on account of the journey, and I asked my husband to get me some water. He replied by striking and abusing me. He said that I might go and get it myself. It was about 10 o'clock at night. We had been travelling several hours. We may have stopped at Calliana can't say. He went to the bedside when I asked him again for water, and pushed me away. I had to wait for a long time at the tent door, till I saw some officers pass, and got a bottle of lemonade. At Secunderabad my husband's ill-treatment of me continued. He used bad language at Secunderabad, as he did everywhere else. I don't remember his striking me at Secunderabad ; but he constantly twisted my arm, which caused a good deal of pain. From Secunderabad we went to Aden at the end of 1874. I went home with my children in January 1875, leaving my husband there, in the month of March, 1875.

Question.—At Aden how did he treat you ?

Answer.—Well, I saw very little of him there. I was very ill a good part of the time I was there. I went home with my husband's consent. Just before coming out from England I wrote to my husband about his treatment of me, and he promised to treat me better. He was at Perim when I rejoined him. It was in November, 1875. I stopped there 3½ months. At first he was very kind to me. I brought my children out to India and took them to Perim. From that place we went to Belgaum in April, 1876. Here, I don't think he struck me, but he constantly used bad language to me. We then came to Bombay, from which place we went to Poona in March, 1877. At that time my husband was Acting Inspector of Schools, and he had to travel about for inspecting schools in the cold weather. When at Poona I heard something about him. When he returned in consequence of what I had heard I taxed him with having travelled about in company with a female. He did not deny, and showed me the photograph of a European woman. He said she was his Nelly. I was indignant on that occasion. When I was indignant he had a great row with me. He threw me down violently, so as to hurt me.

His Lordship.—Was he drunk or sober then ?

He was perfectly sober. From Poona we went back to Belgaum. When my husband was travelling about with the lady he did not send me money either for myself or children, though I wrote to him for it. We went to Belgaum in 1878, and his ill-treatment of me continued there. He struck me in the presence of my ayah and children. On one occasion he hit me on the mouth. The blow made my mouth bleed. I could not go out for four or five days in consequence of my face being disfigured. The ayah's name is Sarah. At Poona and Belgaum he used to twist my arms sometimes, which hurt me. In March, 1879, I, with my two children, went home in a troop ship. I had just enough to pay for our mess on board. I arrived in England without any money, except four or five pounds. I was in England about 25 weeks before I received any money. He sent me £12.

His Lordship.—What pay was he then drawing ?

Just at that time he was drawing about Rs. 700 a month. Shortly afterwards he got Rs. 700 per month. I begged of him to send me more money, and after a month more he sent me £10. I had taken lodgings in South Wales. I returned to Bombay on the 1st March, 1881. He did not meet me in Bombay. I went down to Vingorla and saw him there. Thence we went away to Sawantwadee, were he was stationed. I discovered that he was living with a European woman, my ayah, the one I have mentioned already, named Sarah. I taxed him with it. He treated me with extreme violence. He struck me with his fist on the nose, which bled in consequence. He caught me by the left arm and twisted it. He knocked me against the desk. I was very sick for several days in consequence of this treatment. The skin of my left arm was taken off in several places : my right was also bruised as badly as the left arm. His knocking me against the desk left a bruise on the side. The ayah was still in the house when I made the discovery and taxed him with it. She was my ayah. I refused to live with my husband after the discovery in the evening of the day he used me so violently I left his house. It was on the 10th April last. I then came to Bombay and instructed my solicitor to institute proceedings. I also informed him that in addition to that what I had heard rumours against her character at Bhosawal. That same morning (30th) he gave the respondent Rs. 10 and a cheque on the Agra bank for Rs. 50, and left the house at 12 o'clock. He came back he found that his wife had gone away. He subsequently discovered that she went to Rangoon, taking with her the name of Mrs. Scott, the co-steamer of which the co-respondent was the captain. He received two telegrams, one of which was as follows :—

"Married day after divorce is granted."

His Lordship.—That is very short.

The petitioner, continuing, said he received another telegram, dated 19th May, from a Mrs. Harcourt. The telegram was as follows :—

"Wife died this morning of cholera."

The letter handed in, dated Rangoon, 30th May, and signed J. Scott, was in his wife's handwriting.

The following is a copy of the letter :—

British Burmah, Rangoon, May 30.

Dear Mr. Pitt,—The court peon has just come to have a look at me, I suppose to see whether I am dead or not. Mrs. Harcourt (a very particular friend of mine) told me that she had telegraphed to you saying that I was dead, but you see by my writing to you that it is not true. The doctor gave me up as dead, so the mistake was really not her fault. I had been in Mandalay, Upper Burmah, and was returning to Rangoon when I got the cholera on board the steamer. And in addition to that when I arrived there I had a miscarriage ; so you may know by that I have been very ill. I had the best doctor here, and he would not give me up. The medicine he said that I was too far gone. They were making arrangements to put me in the Poosoondong cemetery, but they troubled themselves unnecessarily, for I am alive and will be as well in a few days as I have ever been in my life. Last evening I drove in my buggy up to the cemetery to see the hole they had dug ; but I guess they will have to put somebody else in it. I have been very fortunate since I came here. There was only one thing that troubled me
